

MODULE

Module Handelsagentur GmbH was founded in 1995 and has gained more than 20 years experience in the trade of raw materials for the food industry from all over the world. The main focus of the company lays in sourcing bee products, natural sweeteners, special seeds, grains and nuts for the food industry.

Module's success primarily stems from our strong long-term relationships with our trading partners and the commitment of our highly qualified staff. Furthermore, established strategic partnerships enable us to monitor the markets continuously. As a consequence, we are able to make quick, market-oriented purchasing decisions which ultimately benefit our customers.

Apart from raw materials, Module GmbH also offers semi-finished products for food production. We are able to offer a variety of special processed honey from ultra-modern production facilities. Whether concerning pasteurization, UHT-treatment, production of special blends or individual packaging: the processing of honeys is made according to customer's requests. The required analyses and certificates are included in the delivery if desired.

Our complex quality assurancesystem represents our high quality demands regarding products and suppliers. Each good is precisely described. Moreover, a risk assessment specific to each individual product is performed and the exact investigative parameters are defined. Here, our company closely collaborates with accredited laboratories. Those specifications and the quality demands involved are decisive for our choice of suppliers. Only those who meet all criteria reliably, who ensure complete traceability and respect for bio-ethical principles are accepted to the select circle of suppliers.

Worldwide, we move more several thousand tons together with our trading partners. With respect to Europe, the number accounts for more than 5,500 tons p.a. Due to our international cooperation, we are able to supply our customers with varieties and qualities from nearly every originating country. In many sourcing countries, we maintain close partnerships and thus we can directly influence the production, processing, treatment and preliminary examination of harvest.

As special service, we provide our clients with all desired analyses, certificates as well as the import or export process of the merchandise, furthermore consolidation, commissioning and distribution.

Module GmbH is a member in various business associations such as in „Honigverband e.V.“, „Warenverein der Hamburger Börse e.V.“ and in the FEEDM- Federation Européenne Des Emballeurs Et Distributeurs De Miel. We are certified for processing/trade with organic products under DE-ÖKO-003.

With pleasure, we respond to your customer-specific needs.

On request, we will happily provide you with further information. In addition, our website www.module-gmbh.de is waiting for your visit.

We are looking to hearing from you.